The Howler, now in its ninety-first year of publication, is a unique publication just as Wake Forest is a unique school. The name Howler originated on the old campus. A monthly newsletter was posted on a tree which served as the campus bulletin board. The tree "howled" out information to those who walked by. The first Howler took its name from this tree and the newsletters posted on it. The original goal of the Howler was to create a picture of student life on campus for the year. This is still our main objective. Pictures should be able to speak for themselves. Therefore, we have limited the amount of words in this edition to let the pictures tell the story of the student year at Wake Forest.

STUDENT LIFE

What is student life? For most students, it encompasses everything that happens during the school year - good and bad. By combining these events, the college experience is created. The college experience at Wake Forest is one of the many things that sets this school apart from all others. From the first day of freshman orientation to Opening Convocation, Homecoming to Lovefeast, and Springfest to Graduation, the college experience is created. Daily activities also build this experience: you can wander over to Benson Center where you can watch a movie, play video games, work out for a while, or grab a snack and talk with some friends in the food court. Go for a long walk or run through Reynolda Gardens in the afternoon, and then go to a concert that evening. Volunteer a couple of hours a week. If you have a spare moment, you can find something to do at Wake Forest that fits the definition of student life.

CONVOCATION

The 1994 academic calendar is different. The powers that be completely eliminated fall break, lengthened the Thanksgiving break to a week, started the exam period the day after classes ended, gave us virtually a month for our Winter Recess, and eliminated the Good Friday holiday.

Even the Convocation schedulers broke with tradition. The official opening of the school year took place on a later date - September 30, 1993, nearly a month after classes began - and at a later time - 4 P.M., in hope that more students could attend. Those that did witnessed one of the most noted historians of our time speak: Arthur Schlesinger, Jr., author of the work The Disuniting of America.

In his 50 minute speech, he focused on the growing multicultural movement and some of its possible negative ramifications, two being the falsification of history to ignore the contributions of white males and the eminent warfare of ethnicity.

In retrospect, no two people even heard, nevertheless interpreted, his speech the same way. The speech, if anything, touched ideas basic to our experience and opened our minds to recognize that which lay ahead. But I guess that is the point of Convocation.

THE YEAR IN REVIEW

Ideally, a yearbook should be a reflection of the time in which it was created. So, this year, the Student Life section in The Howler includes a little bit about the real world (not too much, this is Wake) and a special Mini-Mag of sorts starting on Page 48 that focuses on issues prevalent on campus this year. Read on!

Above: On one battle front, First Lady Hillary Rodham Clinton presses on for Health Care Reform. Top Right: War - and U.N. intervention - seems to be a recurrent theme in 1993-1994: Conflict in Somalia as "warlords" struggle for power; conflict in Bosnia as reports of human rights atrocities and tales of "ethnic cleansing" pour from the most violent region in the former Yugoslavian republic. Bottom Right: Finally, the dream of "Peace in the Middle East" may be realized when Israel's Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin and the Palestine Liberation Organization's Yasir Arafat signed a peace treaty that marked an amazingly major step towards a resolution of the Palestine legitimacy question that has lasted for decades.

Center: President Bill Clinton and Vice-President Al Gore (one of People's most attractive people in 1993) wage war against the glut of bureaucracy that has become associated with the federal government. Middle: In 40 seconds, an earthquake in Los Angeles registering 6.6 on the Richter Scale left at least 55 people dead and an estimated $30 billion in damage. Bottom: Another natural disaster struck - flooding plagued the Midwest for most of the summer, submerging thousands of homes and farms and causing at billions of dollars of damage. Meanwhile, the Southeast experienced severe drought. Faces to Remember include Arrested Development, a critically-acclaimed rap group that seemed to network TV again; and Nirvana, the band that seemed to symbolize the music and lifestyles of the Seattle based grunge music as its lead singer Kurt Cobain committed suicide in April, causing furor in the MTV world.

THE YEAR IN REVIEW

On the next ten pages are bits and pieces of life that together give a sense of this time, this place. In no particular order...

Holly Tackett

1. Winter Wonderland

One can doubt that the powers that be in Admissions land will include this in their brochure. On the night before registration for the second semester, the entire Eastern seaboard was sealed in one huge sheet of ice. Registration continued behind schedule, and the sloppy, wet weather continued for much of the winter.

2. Men and Women

Conflict between men and women on this campus seems to be a bit of a tradition. This year was no exception. "The ADMINISTRATION" revealed plans for a more equitable redistribution of Greek lounges. During Rape Awareness Week, PREPAR - in conjunction with several other campus organizations - sponsored events to inform the campus of the many dimensions of relationship abuse and to remind the campus body of rape's far too prominent position on campus. Most visible of all, though, is the Old Gold and Black coverage of the topic. Articles delving into the pressing issue of "Why Deacs Don't Date" graced the editorial page several times throughout the year, and no one could miss the weekly front page Sex - Wake Forest style article series.

3. Gratuitous Quad Photo

Sara Harrington

What's a Howler without a quad rolling shot? Granted, less traditional is the picture of the alumnus and future Deac partaking in the ritual, but this year, the emphasis has started to focus on the bigger issue: Who's going to clean it up?

4. Academic Computing

The information superhighway has reached WFU and students are taking advantage of all that it has to offer. From a good workstation neighbor, anyone can learn how to get on the Black life IRC channel, hock CD's, or track reports of human rights violations all over the world. The AC isn't just for checking e-mail anymore.

5 Substance Abuse

- Substance abuse must be a big issue on this dear campus; otherwise, every Wake Forest Mom and Dad would not have received a letter during the Winter recess about its prevalence. It is difficult to estimate the number of pot smokers or any other illegal substance users on campus and even more difficult to get a publishable picture of this sort of drug use. Yet, obvious to even the most naive student is legal substance abuse. Alcohol is everywhere.

All photos by Holly Tackett

6. Art!

• Something "artsy" is always going on. Some show. Some art opening. Some sculpture project in the post office. Increasingly, student art is contributing to the overall appearance of the campus and the overall spirit of the student body.

What are the associations with this phrase? Live bands? Cigarette smoke? Men with long hair? Body piercing and tattoos? How about good, pure fun for a diverse segment of the campus community?

8. Big People on Campus

Those pictured are just samples of all the speakers who came to campus this year: Poet and personality Nikki Giovanni, the many speakers involved in the Ethics in Communications symposium, poet Cornelius Eady, and so on. And so on.

MAJOR

ATTRACTIONS

Here at all-American Wake Forest, not much out of the ordinary really took place in the spring. Other than visits from the Lemonheads and George Winston (not photographed at the request of the artist), the biggest attraction for the typical student was the great outdoors. Blessed with such glorious Spring weather, all those healthy enough flocked to the Magnolia Courtyard, Davis Field, or the beloved Reynolda Gardens for fun in the sun, Wake-Forest style (TRANSLATION: frisbee and hacky sack).

ACADEMICS

Why are we here at Wake Forest? For most of us, the answer would be for the education. The quality education that Wake Forest provides would not be possible without the administration and faculty. Even though the people in Reynolda Hall are often criticized, they have been the ones who have steered the school onto its present course. What makes the academics really work is not the administration, but the faculty members who teach the 3,500 undergraduate students. From the lab TA to the Reynolds Professor, they all give us the top quality education that we are here to receive. From Accounting to History, Music to French, and Economics to Philosophy, all the classes combine to provide the liberal arts education for which Wake Forest is nationally known.

..... Edwin G. Wilson

Wilson, a pillar of the Wake Forest community, retires

By Mindy Grove

After forty-six years of affiliation with Wake Forest, four as a student and forty-two as an employee, Dr. Edwin G. Wilson said good-bye to his alma mater when he retired at the end of the spring semester. He started his days at Wake as a member of the class of 1943. After receiving his Masters and Ph. D. from Harvard, he began teaching in the English department in 1951. He then served as Dean of the College from 1958-1967, before becoming the Provost for twenty-three years. His last years here have been spent as the Vice-President for Special Projects, and his final semester was completed in London where he was Director of Programs at Worrell House. Throughout his esteemed career at Wake, he continued to teach classes for the English department.

Dr. Wilson witnessed the move of the campus in 1956, which he believes "gave Wake (the) opportunity to become a stronger and better endowed institution". He believes the move not only gave the city of Winston-Salem financial support, but also gave Wake Forest the cultural support a good university needs. He is especially pleased that Winston-Salem is finally embracing Wake as "their" university, instead of an outside institution.

Being at Wake has been an inspiration for Dr. Wilson. He commented, "I like being on a college campus- there's something invigorating about it". For him "the university is the students and the teachers", not the grounds or location. The students became his friends and he always found them to be a "very attractive and appealing" group. He felt the staff was "more than just interesting" and good to work with, but also "people I find a lot of satisfaction in being with". All in all, Dr. Wilson thinks the people are what makes Wake the place it is, and that they "dominate what is good" about the university.

S P O R T S

The Wake Forest Demon Deacon athletic teams continued their success in 1993-94. While the football team adjusted to a new coach, the men's cross country team won the ACC title. It was announced that women's soccer will become a varsity sport. Men's basketball finished third in the ACC and made it four straight trips to the NCAAs. Women's tennis advanced to the NCAAs for the first time ever. Men's golf finished 15th in the NCAAs. Women's golf won the ACC, NCAA Regionals, and finished 8th in the NCAAs. Baseball had its first national ranking in 17 years. Not bad statistics considering Wake Forest is one of the smallest schools competing in Division 1-A athletics, often matched up with school's five times our size.

Joe Weeks

Determined to outrun the competition

The nationally ranked men's cross-country team, coached by John Goodridge, had the experience, talent, and depth to win the ACC and Regional Championships, as well as make a good showing at the NCAA. They proved their motto "The team, the year" to be true.

G R E E K S

The Greek system at Wake Forest underwent a tremendous change this fall. The groups that were known as societies ceased to exist. They were replaced by national sororities. This change was welcomed by some, but also resisted by many. By the end of the school year, most people had adjusted to the new sororities, but the memories of the societies will remain forever. The fraternities on campus are affected by this change due to revisions of party and alcohol rules. This change will affect the campus for years to come. Greek activities, such as Greekweek, Brian Piccolo Cancer Fund Drive, Derby Days, Pledge Nights, and parties, remained the same and were a vital part of Greek life at Wake Forest.

ORGANIZATIONS

From sports related clubs to publications, from religious organizations to student activities, and from academic groups to student governance, students can find a group that fits their interests. And if you can't find a club that represents your interests, you can always start your own group. The activities of each group varied this year. Student Government passed many resolutions to protect the student's interest. Student Union provided activities for the student body every day of the year. Volunteer Service Corps expanded Project Pumpkin and other events. The Catholic Community provided worship for many students. Women's club soccer prepared to make the transition to varsity status. The Old Gold and Black produced a newspaper every week.

C L A S S E S

Wake Forest is a unique school, mainly because of the small size of the student body. With only 3,500 undergraduates, the campus is small enough that you can see a friend as you walk to class, but large enough that you can see students that you have never seen before while eating in the Pit. The people at Wake Forest are the ones who contribute to the sense of community that has thrived on campus over the past 160 years. Every year, as new students enter this community in the fall, the community extends to welcome them. As seniors graduate in the spring, the community gathers to wish them well at commencement. All the classes -- freshmen, sophomores, juniors, and seniors -- help make Wake Forest the community that it is today.

Like the school year, the book must come to a close. For many, the end of the school year is a time to wrap up loose ends and finish things that have been put off as long as possible. The closing of the yearbook is the same. This section is made up of advertisements, the index, editor's note, closing photographs, and other loose ends. The photographs have been picked to give a parting glance at the 1993-1994 school year and to showcase some of the photo staff's best shots.

COLOPHON

The 1994 Howler is the 92nd edition of the Wake Forest University yearbook. The Howler is produced by the Student Publications Board of Wake Forest University. Opinions expressed are not necessarily those of the trustees, administration, faculty, staff, or students of Wake Forest University.

The Howler offices are located in room 500, Benson University Center. All correspondence should be sent to P.O. Box 7306, Reynolda Station, Winston-Salem, NC 27109. Our phone number is (910)759-5289.

This edition was printed by the Delmar Publishing Company in Charlotte, North Carolina. Our representatives were Brian Hunter and Liza Wearn.

Copies of the book are provided as part of tuition to all students of Wake Forest University. Funding is provided by the University through the Student Budget Advisory Committee in an allocation process.

This edition contains 336 pages and has a trim size of nine by twelve inches. The press run was 2675 copies. Paper is 100 pound gloss. Four color processing is on 64 pages and spot color (PMS 341) is on 40 pages. The cover material is satin wine with warm gray silkscreening. The cover was embossed for the type and the four color tip on. The cover photograph was taken by Brent Williamson. Endsheets are Royal Felt Sand. All photographs have a 1 point close register tool line border. Type styles used in the book vary.

All pages were designed on Macintosh LC II and LC III computers using Aldus PageMaker 5.0 and Apple LaserWriter IIg. Pages were submitted on disk to Delmar for publication.

Color and black and white photographs for this edition were taken by members of the Wake Forest University Photography Staff. Black and white film used included Kodak TMax 100, 400, and 3200 film. All black and white photographs were developed and printed in the staff darkrooms, located in Room 506, Benson Center. Color slides were taken on Kodak and Fuji film and processed locally by Photo Lab and Talton Professional Photofinishing. All portraits were taken by Thornton Studios of New York City, New York. Our representative was Michael Sawchuk.

Advertising was solicited by Yearbook Press of America, Marietta, Georgia. Our representative was Larry Kraus.

EDITOR'S NOTE

Being editor of a publication like the Howler is a true honor. Once. To do it twice is not exactly an honor. Had I the chance to decide again whether or not to be editor for a second year, I would have said no. As they say, hindsight is always 20/20. Having gotten that off my chest, let me say some things about this year's book. The 1993 Howler was a return to the basics. Having received many compliments about the book (thanks for all of them), we made very few changes this year. We continued to place primary value on the photographs, but added some copy. In addition, the book is 100% indexed (first time since 1991). The book was turned in on time for the second year. For the first year in recent memory, the book came in under budget. If you have any problems or complaints with the book, remember that anyone can join the staff at anytime - help is always welcome.

I have many people to thank for making this book a reality. Jeanie, thanks for taking care of the business stuff. Connie, the student life section looks great. I am still cursing the Jacksonville Old Style font, but Americana looks good. Good luck editing the book next year as you take the Howler to the next level of excellence. Kim, Em, Beth, Kate, and Jenny, I enjoyed working with you and I hope you keep working with the Howler. Wendy, sports looks great and hopefully you like how it turned out. Lori, Drew, and Marty, I hope you enjoy working on sports again next year with Wendy and I will miss the laughs at sports staff meetings. Rachel, academics and classes were boring tasks, but you handled them well. Kristen, thanks for coming on board at the last minute and doing grecks. Hopefully next year you can get started much earlier. Holly, this book would not be possible without your photos. I have never seen anyone print so many photos at a time as you did on several occasions. Have fun doing it again next year, and don't let the OG&B get on your nerves too much. To the rest of the photo staff, thanks for your work. I can not imagine trying to put together a book without photos. Dr. Perricone, thanks for being there for us. I know you felt like you didn't do much, but you let us learn how to do it ourselves, which is a great experience. Thanks to Brian Hunter for getting Liza Wearn to help us out as you moved on to a different job. Liza, your dedication was appreciated. Thanks also to Vice President Ken Zick for writing me recommendations and for being there to bounce around ideas with. Thanks also to Mike Ford, President Hearn, Paul Orser, Deb Holcombe, Mark Hall, Legal Affairs, and other administrators for helping me over these two years. Special thanks go to John, Dan, Theresa, Barb, and Renee in the Sports Information Office, not only for help and advice, but for letting me help out in your office. My parents and sister deserve thanks for listening to me complain over the past two years. A final thanks goes to the entire Wake Forest community for helping me put the book together.

Wake Forest was a very special place for me for four years. I will miss it deeply over the years. I will miss my Chi Psi fraternity brothers. I will miss the gang on the 5th floor of Benson. I will miss all of the people that I have had the chance to become friends with over my four years. I will miss the faculty members who have taught me. And I will miss the sweet smell of tobacco floating over the campus as I run past the chapel on a clear spring night. True, there are many things that I will not miss. But the Wake Forest experience has been kind to me, and I feel I am a better person because of it. As I go off to Richmond for graduate school, I will always keep my memories of Wake Forest alive. Goodbye and have a great life. As you look at this book years from now, I hope it reminds you of your friends and all of the good times of the past year and I hope that they mean as much to you as they mean to me.
